STOCK MARKET IN BAD PLIGHT

Falling Metal Prices Gives the Investor But Little Encouragement Now.

THAT IS, FOR QUICK RETURNS.

But the Low Levels Reached Offer Excellent Opportunities-Today's Sales.

The week opened with the mining sock market in anything but an enouraging condition. With both copper ind silver quoted lower again and the lear that lead will be the next to join the tobogganing party, there is little inducement to buy stock with any anticipation of quick profits. But at the low levels which some of the good stocks have reached during the past few days it is the opinion of the con-servative ones that the market pre-sents some excellent chances for invest-ment. As one mining man expressed it today, "There has not been an oppor-tunity like this in years to buy good making stacks."

tunity like this in years to buy good mining stocks."

There was a demand for Ajax this morning and a thousand shares were brought out at 21 cents. As a consequence of the passing of the dividend by the directors of the Lower Mammoth Mining company on Saturday, that stock came up weak, but made some gains on the open board. Colorado opened with the sale of 200 shares at $2.85; it then sank to $$3.80 and then went back up to the starting figures. There was little change in Crown Point, Iron Blossom and Mountain Lake; while Uncle Sam Consolidated sold as low as 9s cents and closed at $1.

Ely Witch was the only unlisted stock brought out, a board lot selling at 40 cents, taking into consideration the way other stocks have farred, Ohio Copper is holding its own. But only a few shares are being offered. The closing quotations and sales were:

Ernest L. Godbe Reports Conditions Satisfactory in Southern Camp.

Ernest L. Godbe, manager of the Ohio Kentucky Mining company, returned from Ploche teday after an absence in that southern Nevada camp extending over a period of several weeks. He says people down that way have not begun to feel the effects of the depreasion that has been gradually coming over the mining industry during the past few weeks. The camp is in a very prosperous condition and everybody is getting ready for the big celebration commemorating the completion of the railroad into Ploche next month, Mr. Godbe says the graders have almost completed their contract and that the steel gang is following closely with the laying of rails. The end of the track is now about five miles out from the site selected for the Ploche depot. Ernest L. Godbe, manager of the Ohio Development work is being pushed in the Ohio Kentucky mine, and the re-sults. Mr. Godbe states, thus far have been of a most satisfactory character.

DROP IN FLORENCE.

Lower Mammoth, 100 at 1.25; 100 at Cause of Sudden Decline Explained in 1.36.

(Pollock Special Wire.)
San Francisco, Oct. 14.—The break Florence on the regular call Satday is said to have been a coup ennocred for the purpose of taking or a block of this stock at panic ores, A local broker had a loan of 1.75 on some 26,000 shares of Florice. On Friday's curb stock sold awn to 42,86. The lender called for ore protestion and the broker was mable to give it. The tip then went at to a few on the inside that this ock would be dumped on the marof Saturday and was subsequently (Pollock Special Wire.) and the most of it was soon a mader. The current report is that the most of it was taken in at these prices by those who forced the aale. The proker has appealed to the exchange committee as the stock was not sold through the "catler" as required by the exchange laws. Florence is one of the best properties in Goldfield, is a divident payer and the market action Saturday is hard to justify. It sold as low as $1.50 on the regular call and closed at $2.54 b bid on the informal and if the sales for account are ruled out, there may be spectacular bidding to replace the stock sold.

MANY MILLS IN THIS CAMP.

Some of the Topics to Be Discussed During Gathering of Mining Men.

Special Correspondence

Joplin, Mo., Oct. 16,-All other questions of importance in the lead and zinc fields of the Missouri-Kansas-Oklahoma-Arkansas mining camp, are being merged into that of the coming meeting of the American Mining congress in Joplin, Nov. 11 to 16

Every facility for seeing and inspecting the mines, and the machinspecting the mines, and the machinery used in its concentration is being provided for by the operators and the committees. There are within a raduis of 35 miles of Joplin over 500 concentrating mills, with an 'average capacity of 150 tons each, a few of this number have a 250-ton capacity, while some three or four recently built have a 500-ton capacity.

Besides the trip to the mines a very fine exhibit of ore is being placed in Germanis hall under the direction of Mr. C. Guengerich, the collection coming from the various mines of the Joplin and surrounding districts. Also an exhibit of mining machinery, with a few new inventions in that line, will be made, that all the steps isken in bringing this district to its present prosperous position in the mining world may be studied. By considering ore formations and ground conditions, with machinery used one fieds ample demonstration of the adconditions, with machinery used one finds ample demonstration of the ad-vance mining is making in the scien-tific as well as in the industrial world

Of the many subjects to come up during the various discussions none will be more interesting than that of the "uniform laws governing me-talliferous mining and quarrying in the various states," "prospecting for oil and gas." "lead and zinc in the southwest field," "tariff on zinc ores," and the wasts of the national min-eral resources, all of a very practical Nor will these discussions wholly push aside a few of the purely spec-plative questions, such as "Will the production of gold in the world keep ace with the increasing demand commerce and trade?" "How long ill the iron ore and coall supplies the demands of commerce an trade?" and the possibilities and lim-itations of geological survey work as applied to the mining industry, and the importance of the mining indus-trial and commercial life of the na-

One of the vital issues in every metal mining camp is that of the relations of the smelter to the producer; in fixing the rates or determining the cre values, which is probably the one question of greatest importance in the mining world. There seems to be nothing like this determining the ore values in the channel of commerce, because nearly everything is under state regulation, but this one industry, second only to the agricultural interests, the value of ore being entirely determined by the buyer, and for this and many other reasons this congress determined by the buyer, and for this and many other reasons this congress will ask for the revision of the state inws, the enactment of national legslation looking toward the encouragement of honest competition, and where there are differences toward their amicable settlement.

This organization of mining men will ask the United States government to create a new office in the president's cabinet, that of secretary of mines and mining, which the growing complexity of the metal world demands. Mining, now one of the chief industries, is made possible by the advancement's made in the scientific world, otherwise the industry would still remain, as among the ancients an undaveloped resource, a loss because there is that ahout mining that speaks of generosity, of talents wrought into wisdom, making man capable of great things and great influence. of great things and great in-

BUYING BULLION BECK.

Report from Eureka Says Jesse Knight Is After Stock.

Spacial Correspondence

Special Correspondence.

Eureka. Oct. 12—There has been a rumor current in Eureka the past week that Jesse Knight had secured the control of the Bulion Beck mine. This report is without foundation and somewhat premature. However, it has developed that Mr. Knight has secured quite a large block of the Heck stock. Of course it can not be said what the gentleman's plans are, and it can not be said that he will get the control should he go after it. It is conceded that he could make a nice lot of money out of the low grade ore in the Bullion Beck mine, and that the large dumps of the company could be used up very profitably by the new Tintic smelter in which Mr. Knight is heavily interested. This coupied with the fact that he has already got hold of a large bunch of the stock leads the Tintic people to believe that he is after the control of the Bullion Beck's affairs. J. William Knight, who is manager of the Knight mines, was in Eureka from Provo yesterday, and when asked regarding the current rumors, he said that his father had been buying Bullion Beck stock and intimated further that he believed there was some kind of a deal on, but it had not reached the stage where it could be given out to the public.
